

What Cameras Didn't Tell You

A spotlight beam of light shines down from the upper right, illuminating a small, vibrant patch of green grass. The background is dark and textured with a halftone dot pattern, suggesting a night scene or a dark arena.

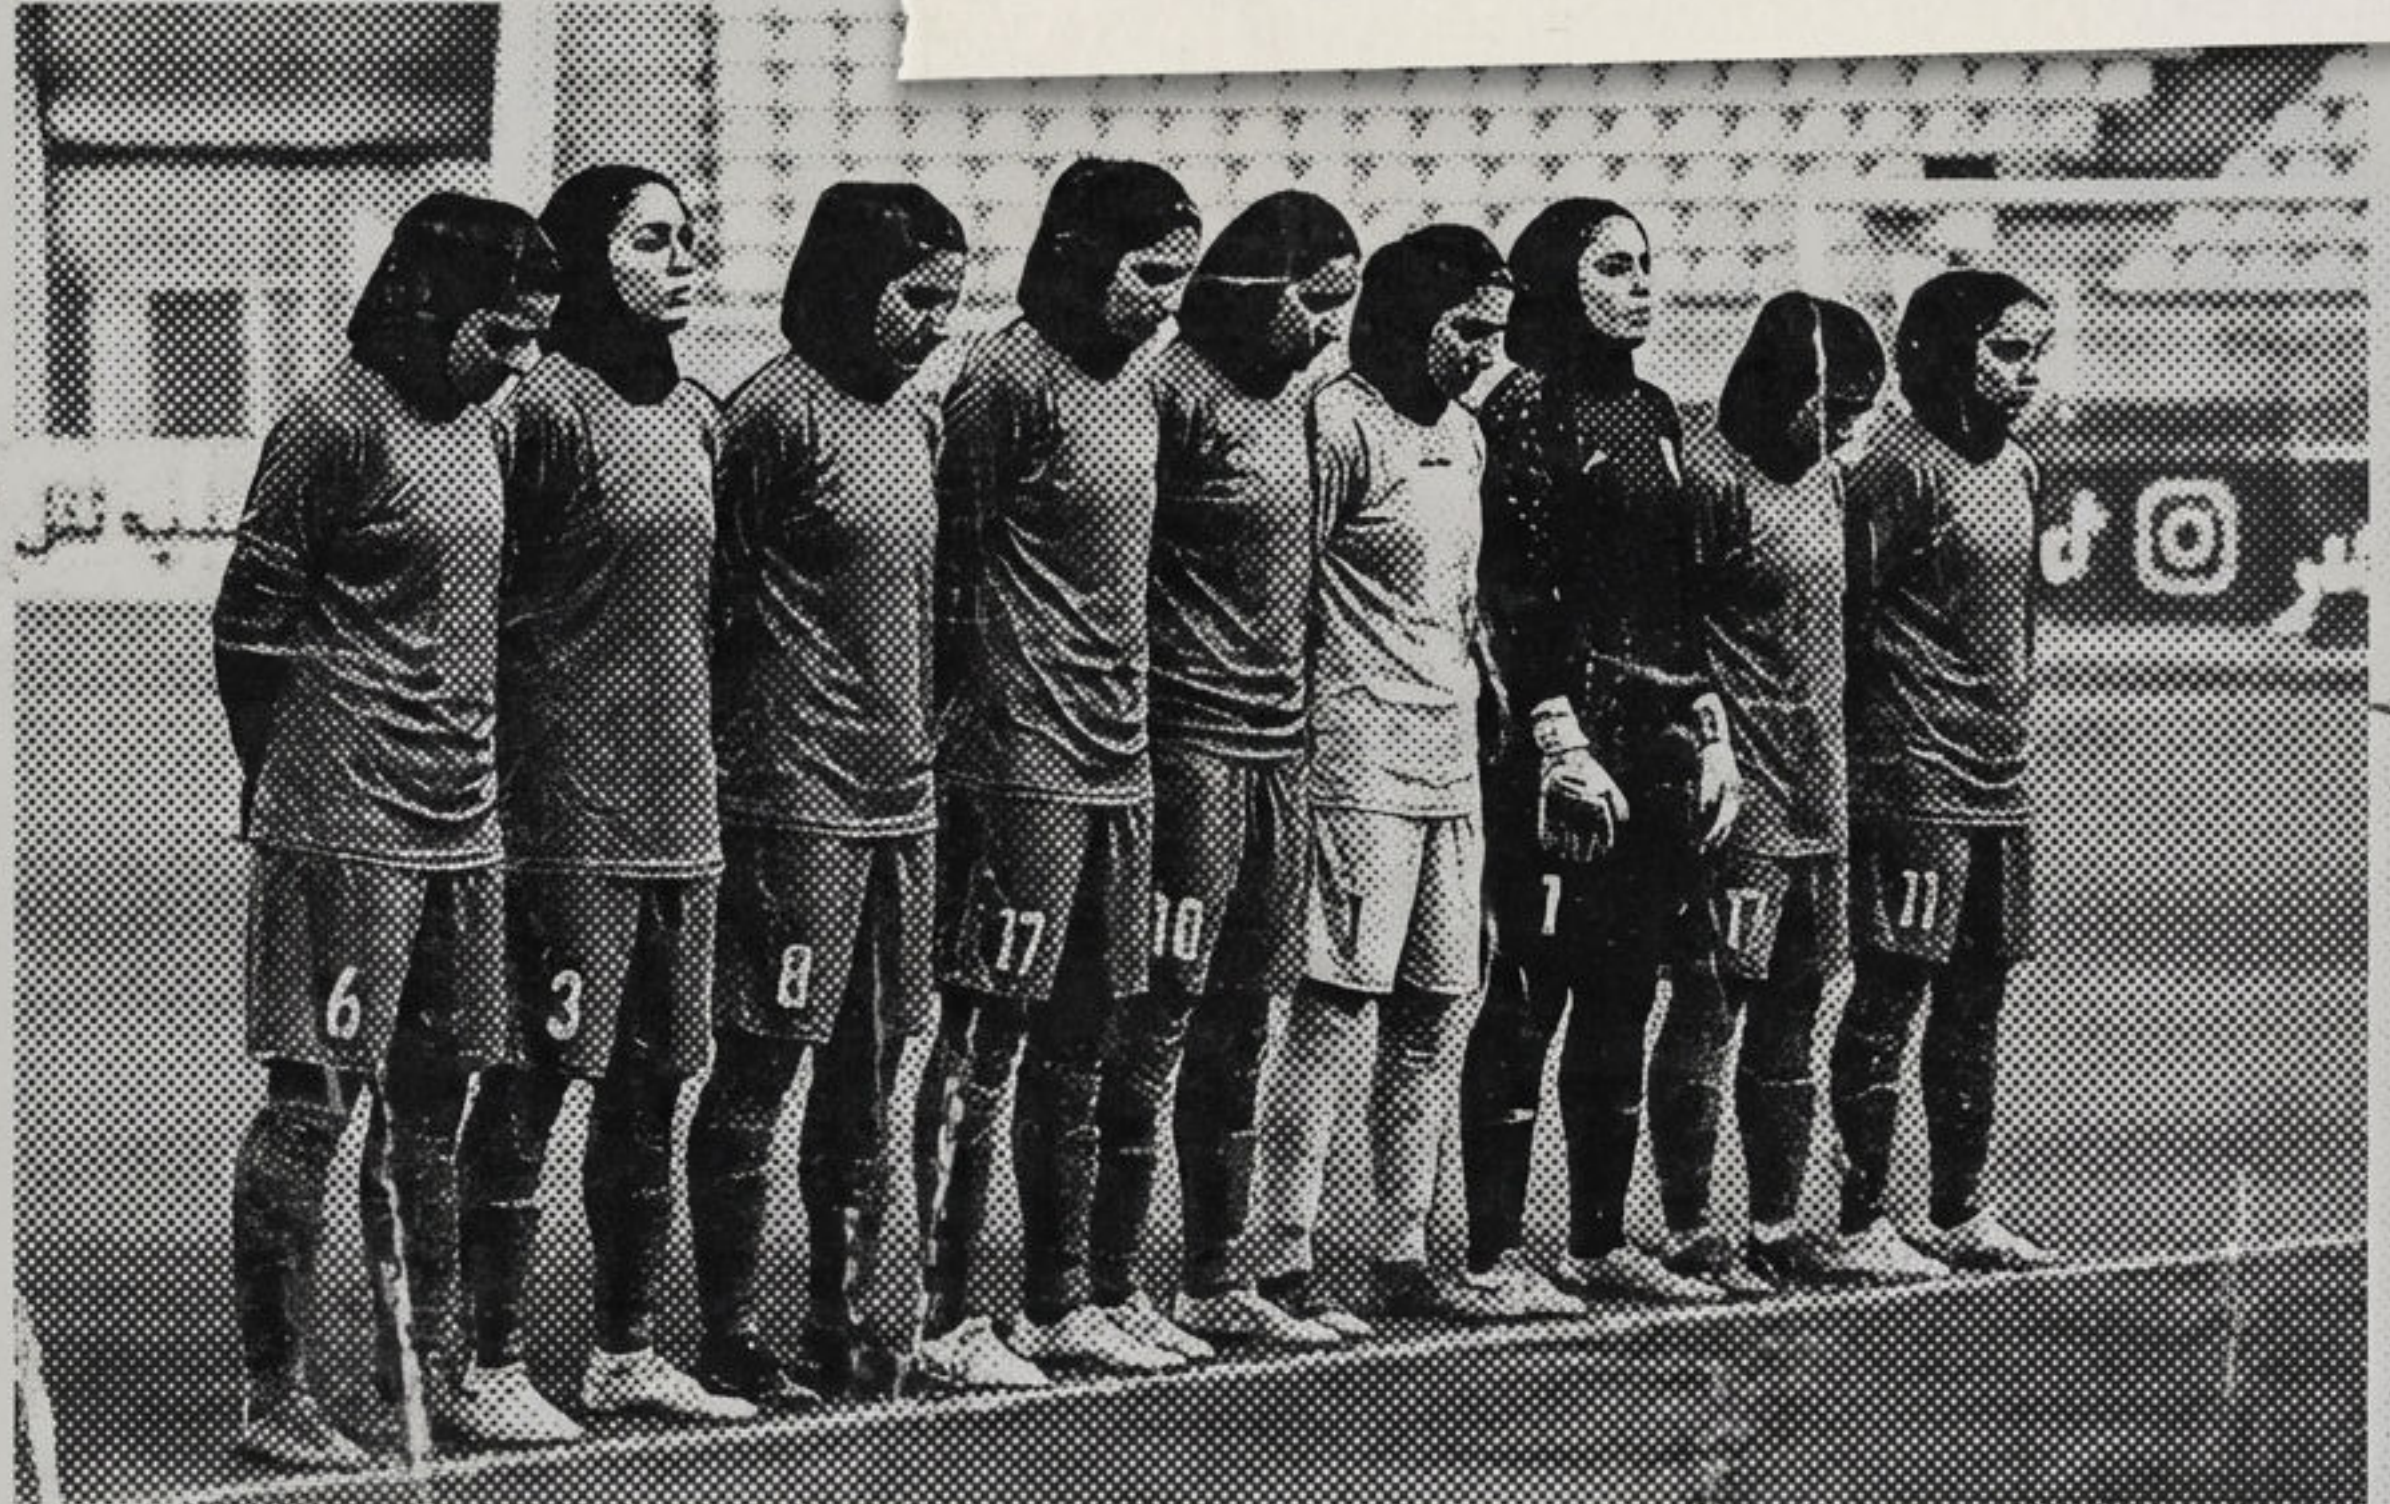

A narrative of the invisible champions of Khatoon Bam.

In the clamor of news, the truth sometimes falls victim to the angle of view. This is the story of a team whose voice was stifled.

Image of Silence

The image of Khatoon Bam players not celebrating went viral. The media captured this moment.

The media goes all out when criticizing or covering negative events.

Perceptual Impairment

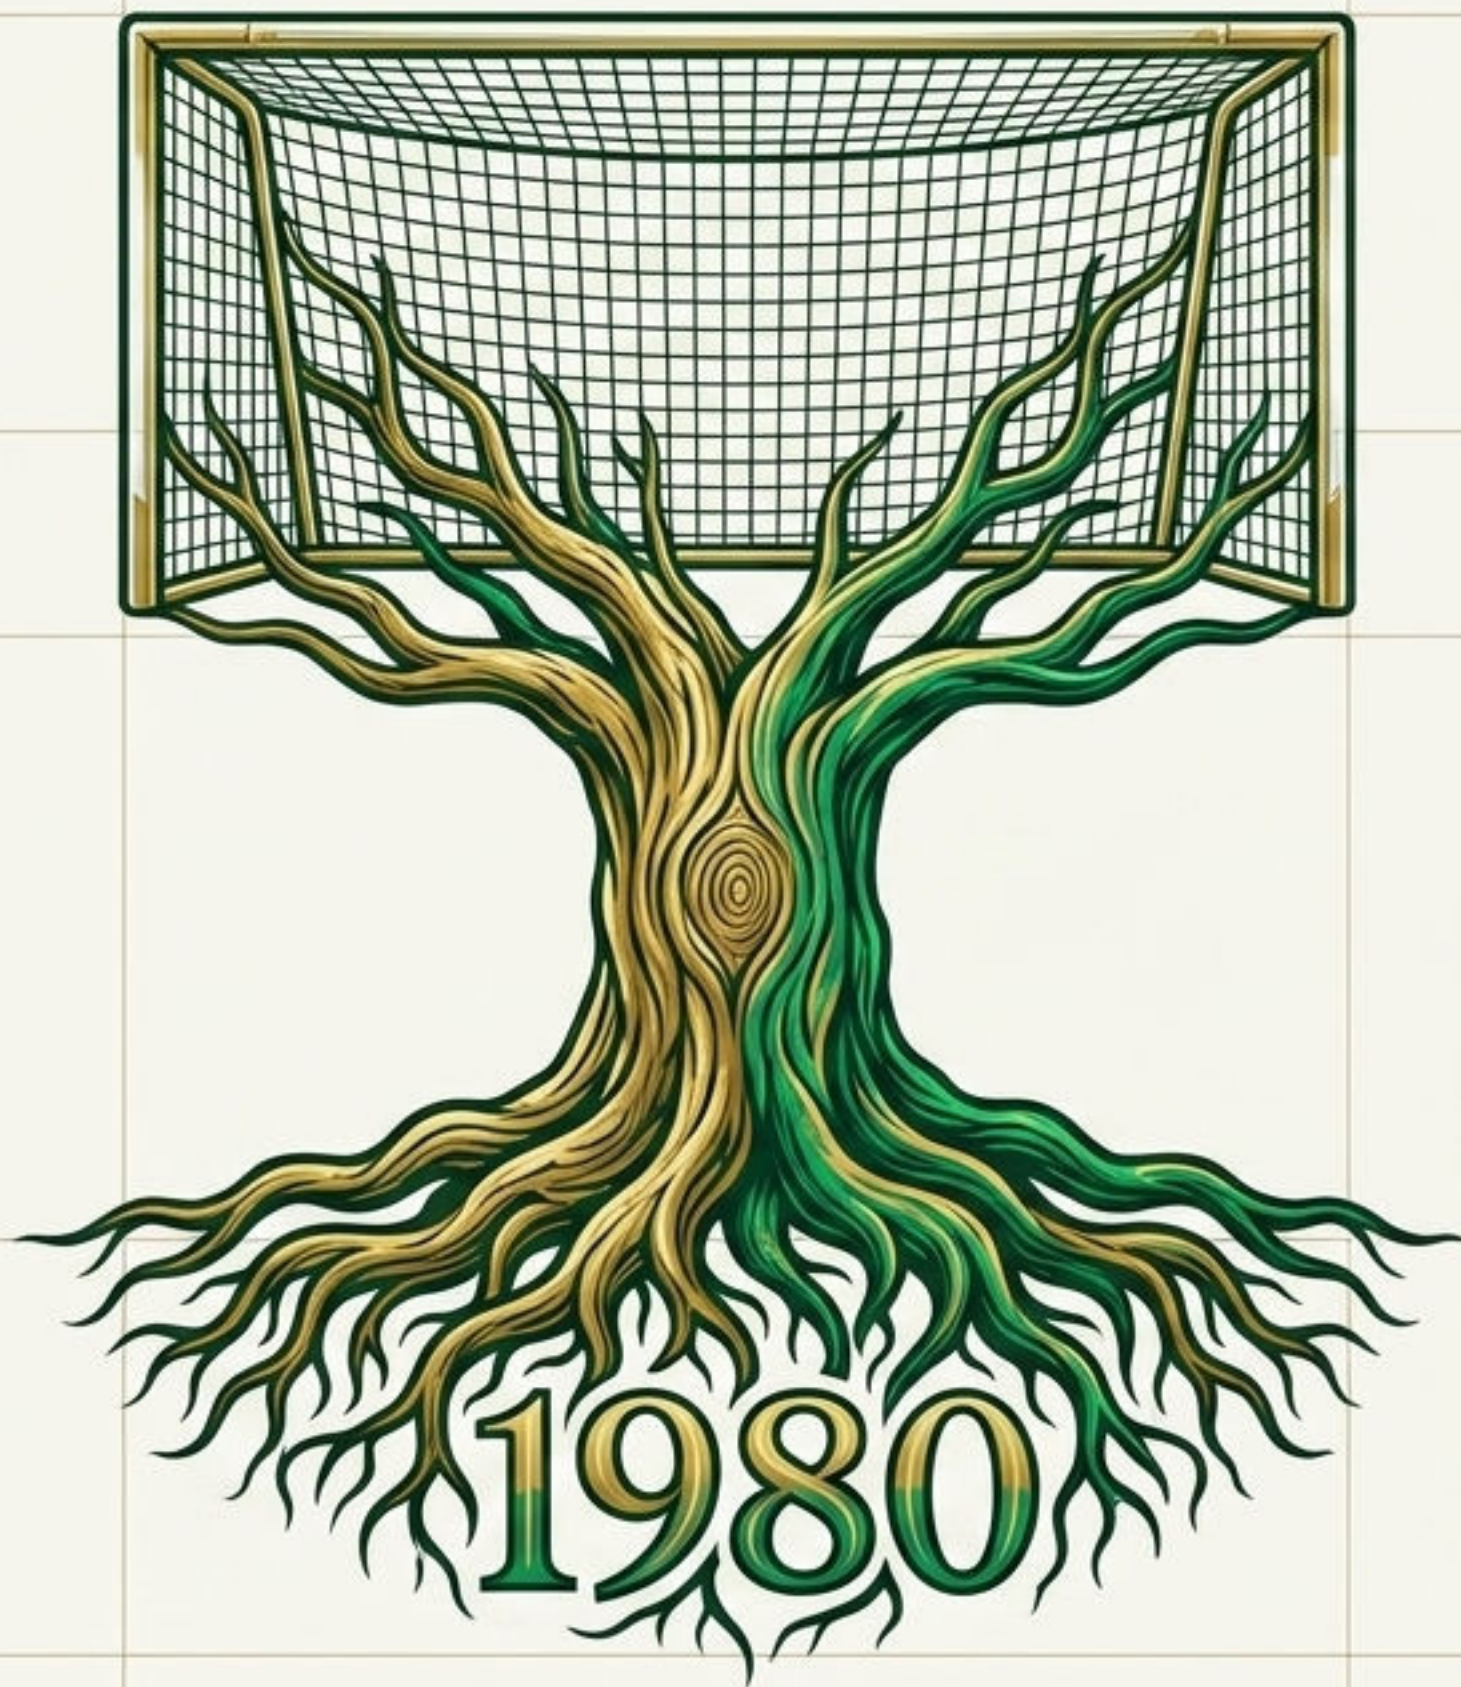

Why is the good not seen? The media either does not want to, or due to "perceptual impairment," cannot work towards enlightenment and explaining the true events.

But what was the reality?

Let's look at what was censored.

Roots in the Heart of History: 1980 (1359 SH)

This is not a newly emerged phenomenon. The Khatoon Bam Women's Sports Club was formed in 1980.

Absolute Rule

This team is not just a participant;
they are undisputed champions.

10 to 12
times National Champions

Dozens of Asian and European matches

National Standards

The technical level of this team is not accidental. Their coach is the head coach of the Iranian Women's National Team.

Blossoming in the Heart of Deprivation

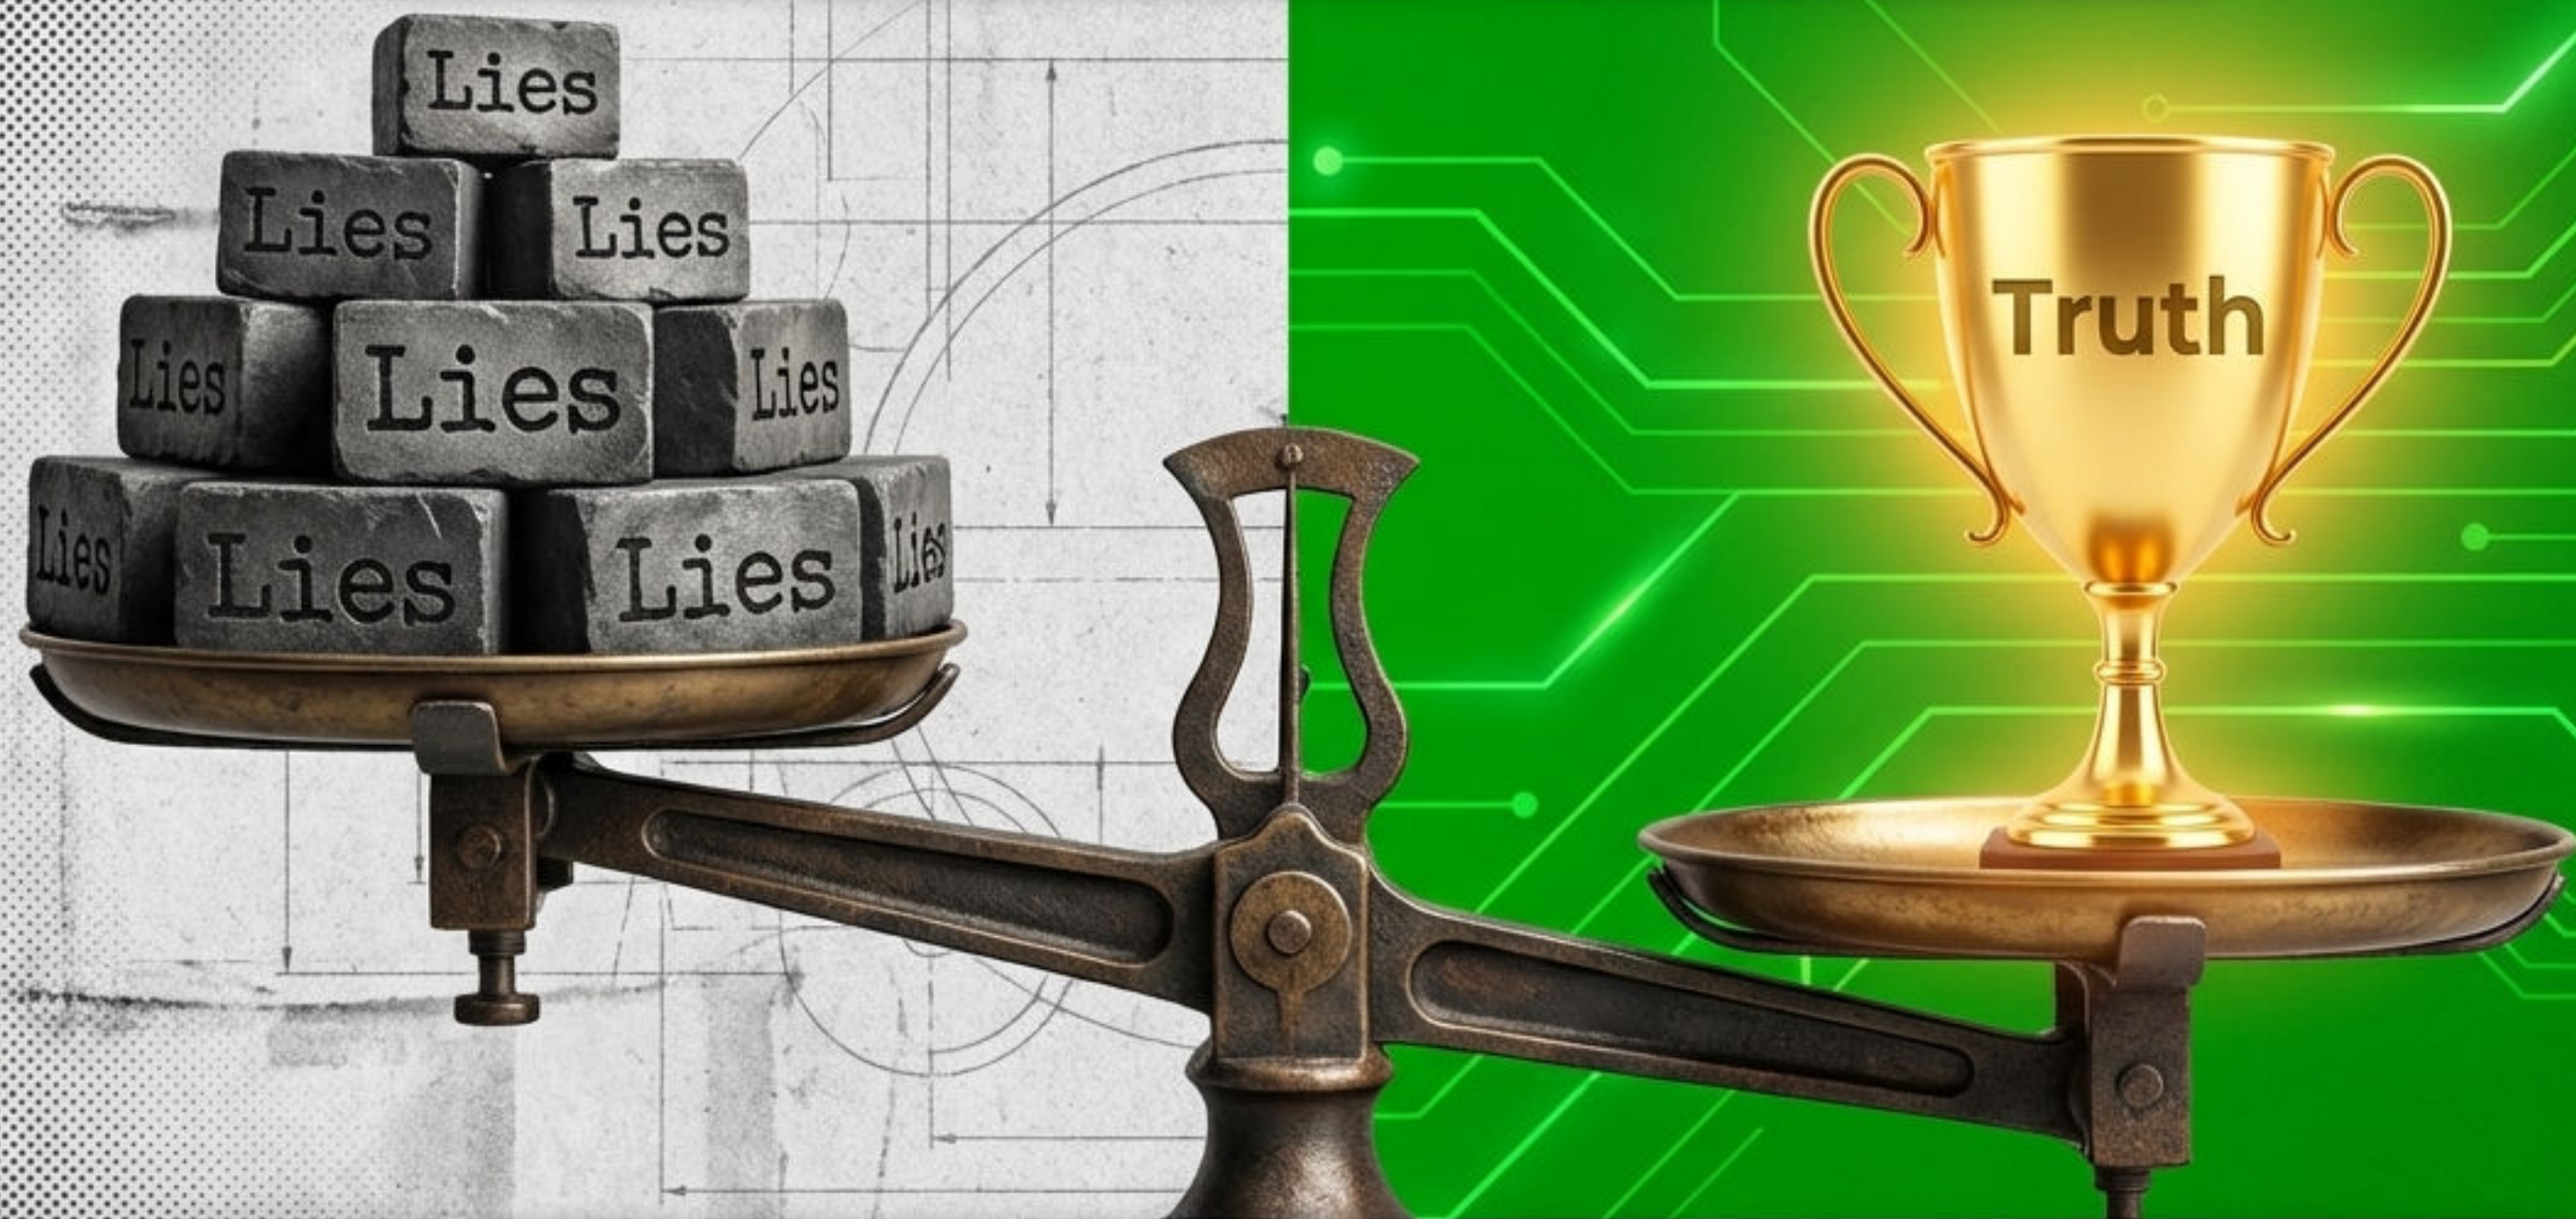

These honors do not come from the capital. This team belongs to an underprivileged province.

Act 1

The Great Paradox

Act 2

For years, they have falsely pumped stories of the oppression of women into the media, but when powerful women make history, they remain silent.

Whose Turn Is It?

When the media is silent,
the truth waits for us.
Who should follow up on these matters?

Let's be the voice of true champions.

Afarinesh Media Literacy Center

A creative and innovative platform for education and research.

Enter the Site

Our Specialized Media

